Pi Architects is a multi-discipline design firm. Our specialty is architecture for senior living.

Managing project costs involves two things, communication and efficiency. With our blend of disciplines headquartered in one office, our team uses project time more efficiently.

The measure of whether a project is successful isn't limited to financial goals. We want to create environments that provide true resident centered care, and we look for clients that share that priority. Our work begins with an examination of management's specific operations procedures. Then we customize design to promote resident care, dignity and privacy.

Budgetary concerns, marketing, and regulatory requirements are factored into design from the beginning. The early integrated approach is best for project development and a good process to ensure that client vision is reflected in the outcome. As a result, more than 85% of our projects are undertaken for repeat clients.

We serve clients across the United States from our offices in Austin, Texas. Owners, operators and developers with whom we have collaborated:
